

Lightfoot Capital Partners, LP Announces the Acquisition of Terminal Assets from Center Oil Company

New York, NY – July 12, 2007 – Lightfoot Capital Partners, LP today announced that its newly formed limited partnership, Arc Terminals LP has acquired seven petroleum product terminals from Center Oil Company, a private energy company based in St. Louis, Missouri.

The acquired terminals are located in Ohio, Virginia, North Carolina, Illinois and Wisconsin. These terminals have a combined working capacity of approximately 1.5 million barrels and provide storage and delivery services for gasoline, diesel and bio-diesel, aviation gas, and ethanol. Current terminal customers include Center Oil Company as well as several unaffiliated, third parties.

“Our partnership with Lightfoot Capital enhances Center Oil’s core business and provides our terminal operations, as part of Arc Terminals, the ability to take advantage of growth and expansion opportunities that currently exist throughout the United States,” stated Gary Parker, President and CEO of Center Oil Company.

Initial limited partners of Arc Terminals LP include Lightfoot Capital Partners, LP and affiliates of Center Oil Company. Arc Terminals GP LLC, the general partner of Arc Terminals LP, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Lightfoot Capital Partners, LP.

Vince Cabbage, CEO of Lightfoot Capital, stated, “We look forward to working with Gary Parker and his team to build Arc Terminals into a leading, independent terminal business. As partners, we have identified a number of opportunities where Arc Terminals can grow its existing operations as well as expand into new markets.”
